Kindness and gentleness incarnate

“Flavie was one of my best encounters among all the vendors for our wedding. From the beginning, I was touched by her kindness, her attentiveness and the sincere interest she shows in each of her clients.

The trial session is prepared with great care: nothing is left to chance. Flavie takes the time to ask questions, to be interested in our skincare routine, the products we like or dislike, those with which we feel comfortable, the music we prefer to listen to... We immediately sense that she wants to create a truly personalized beauty treatment, one that reflects who we are, in an environment that is as conducive to relaxation and well-being as possible.

On our wedding day, she arrived with thoughtful touches and small gifts chosen especially for us, a gesture that deeply touched me. But beyond that, Flavie has a real talent for creating a haven of peace and tranquility around her. While she's doing makeup, her calm voice, kindness, and presence literally envelop those who are in her care. It's a truly unique experience: a timeless moment that really helps you approach the day with serenity.

For all these reasons, in addition to her undeniable talent for makeup, I wholeheartedly recommend Flavie. Her incredible kindness, impeccable professionalism, and genuine warmth will make your makeup application as beautiful as the rest of your day.

What cosmetics do you use?

I have carefully selected a range of cosmetics from leading professional and high-end brands to guarantee elegant, radiant, and long-lasting makeup looks, tailored to every skin type. My essentials include brands such as Chanel, Guerlain, Dior, Lancôme, Nars, Charlotte Tilbury, and MAC Cosmetics.

On what date is the makeup trial taking place?

The trial is an essential step in designing your makeup down to the smallest detail. I recommend scheduling it between one and three months before your event. This personalized appointment typically lasts between two and two and a half hours, entirely dedicated to creating your custom makeup look.
